

Society & Nature: Engaging the “Integral Ecology” of Laudato Si’

Sat, Jan 27, 2018

9:00am - 4:30pm

2301 Vine Street, Berkeley

Presentations followed by Q&A

Includes lunch and light
reception to follow

Donations welcome

Laudato Si’: A Moral Charter for Sustainable Development - ANTHONY ANNETT

Anthony Annett worked with the Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace and the Pontifical Academies of Sciences/Social Sciences and co-authored “Business Perspectives on Laudato Si’” with Carolyn Woo. He helped manage “Ethics in Action for Integral and Sustainable Development”, bringing together religious leaders, economists, developers, philosophers, leaders in business, labor law and civil society to address the world’s leading challenges.

Laudato Si’: The Broader Context in Early Environmentalism and Eastern Orthodox Thought - GABRIEL MEYER

Gabriel Meyer is an award-winning novelist, poet and journalist. He has covered highly charged political events around the world for over 30 years. His focus has always been on the plight of marginalized groups. He has reported on Christian communities in the Middle East, war orphans in Bosnia and civil war in central Sudan. He is the Executive Director of the Southern California Ecumenical Council and as a Greek-Catholic, he serves as a Cantor in his parish.

Panel Perspectives - Theological, Philosophical and Political - DSPT FACULTY

AND FELLOWS

DSPT Faculty and Fellows will reflect on the reception of the Laudato Si’ in the US and other topics raised in the presentations. They will introduce inter-disciplinary considerations such as the role of the human person, moral implications of an integral ecology and concerns from the developing world.

RSVP REQUIRED: dspt.edu/convocation2018

This event is made possible in part by the generous support of The Arthur Vining Davis Foundation.