Dominican Rite Practicum

Instructor: Fr. Augustine Thompson O.P.
Office Hours: TBA at St. Albert's Priory

Course Description

This course is a 1.5 unit graded liturgical practicum open to Dominican friar students, normally after residency year, best in the year of deaconal or priestly ordination. The goal is to acquire the ability to celebrate Low Mass and Missa Cantata according to the traditional Dominican Rite in Latin. The outcome will be a correct and fluid "dry Mass" celebration of the Dominican Rite Low Mass and of the Missa Cantata. These two exercises will in equal parts provide the two graded "exams" of the course. The format will be a practicum in which students perform the rite under the direction of the instructor.

Admission to the Class

Dominican friars who would like to be admitted to the class need to arrange an interview with the instructor. At the interview they will be asked to recite from memory the texts found on the next page. This memorization is not-negotiable and will serve to prove that the student is ready to undertake the heavy memorization element of the class. As this class is only open to Western Dominican Province student brothers it will be held at St. Albert's with social distancing.

Syllabus

Note the the homework assignments are to be completed BEFORE THE SESSION for which they are assigned. Students will be paired at the first meeting so that each student can practice Mass with the paired other student serving as "altarboy" and vice versa. For the Missa Cantata section you will be in groups of three, since two altar boys are needed for that Mass.

WK 1: Introduction to the Dominican Rite (Lecture). History, Spirituality, and canonical status of the Rite. Pronunciation of Latin. Practical issues for celebration according to the "form of 1962." Comparison of the 1933 and 1965 Missals.

Homework: Read and prepare Bonniwell, pp. 5-21, and memorize the Vesting Prayers found in this reading. You will be quized on the Vesting Prayers (and each week's memorization assignment as it occurs). Also review Altar Boys' Manual, pp. 5-23.

WK 2: Practicum on the Prayers at the Foot of the Altar

Homework: Have read and prepared Bonniwell, pp. 22-25, and review the Prayers at the Foot of the Altar. Also read Bonniwell, pp. 49-50, which explains the variants for Mass when the Sacrament is present. Review Altar Boys' Manual, pp. 24-27.

WK 3: Practicum on the Readings and Credo

Homework: Have read and prepared Bonniwell, pp. 25-27, and memorized the silent prayers said during the readings. Review Altar Boys' Manual, pp. 25-29.

WK 4: Practicum on the Offertory

WK 5: Practicum on the Canon

WK 6: Practicum on Fraction and Communion

Homework: Have read and prepared Bonniwell, pp. 41-44, and memorized the Pax Domine sit semper. It would also be very helpful to memorize the mingling prayer and priest's preparation for communion. Then read and prepare the sections on consecration of people's hosts and people's Communion in Bonniwell, pp. 51-53 and 70-73, and memorize the Communion formula. Review Altar Boys' Manual, pp. 32 and p. 100.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

LITURGICAL BOOKS IN USE IN 1962

Dominican Rite Missal:

Missale juxta Ritum Sacri Ordinis Prædicatorum, Rome: In Hospitio Magistri Ordinis, 1933. To conform to the usage of 1962, the calendar (including the ranking of feasts), and texts of some Masses must be replaced by those of 1962. Holy Week Rites must be replaced with those of the 1965 Missale or use Ordo Hebdomadae Sanctae iuxta Ritum Ordinis Praedicatorum Instauratus (Rome: Ad S. Sabinae, 1960)—essentially a Holy Week Missal. Rubrically the rules for additional collects issued in 1961 are to be used. Some versions of this missal lack inserts for Masses added after 1933. No reprint or PDF download available.

Missale S. Ordinis Prædicatorum, Rome: In Hospitio Magistri Ordinis, 1939. This smaller “traveling” Missal requires the same changes as the 1933 edition to conform to 1962 practice. No PDF download available. A reprint (New York: St. Vincent Ferrer, 2018) is available: https://www.amazon.com/gp/product/194891400X/ref=ppx_yo_dt_b_asin_title_o03_s00?ie=UTF8&psc=1 Fr. Bryan Kromholtz has a copy; it is on rather thick paper and I suggest you see his copy before you order.

Missale juxta Ritum Ordinis Prædicatorum, Rome: Ad S. Sabinae, 1965. To conform to the usage of 1962, certain rubrics, especially at the Per Ipsum and concerning parts of the Ordinary printed as to be read aloud or sung need to be said silently. The Last Gospel must also be added. No reprint or PDF download available.

Dominican Rite Breviary:

Breviarium iuxta Ritum Ordinis Prædicatorum. Rome: Ad S. Sabinae, 1962. This edition of the Breviary conforms exactly to the practice of 1962. You may add later Dominican saints using the commons. No reprint or PDF download available.

Dominican Rite Gradual:

Graduale juxta Ritum Sacri Ordinis Prædicatorum. Rome: Ad S. Sabinae, 1950. This is the last edition of the Dominican Graduale. The chants are virtually all correct for 1962. The Easter Triduum music must be replaced by that published in 1959 (see below). A reprint is available: <http://www.lulu.com/shop/iuxta-ritum-sacri-ordinis-praedicatorum/graduale/hardcover/product-18813289.html>

Dominican Rite Holy Week:

Cantus Gregoriani ad Ordinem Hebdomadae Sanctae iuxta Ritum Ordinis Prædicatorum. Rome: Ad S. Sabinae, 1959. This music represents the practice of 1962 and can be used with the other texts found in the 1960 Ordo ... Instauratus or with the 1965 Missale. PDF download: <http://media.musicasacra.com/dominican/hebdomada-sancta-1959.pdf>

Ordo Hebdomadae Sanctae iuxta Ritum Ordinis Praedicatorum Instauratus (Rome: Ad S. Sabinae, 1960). A Holy Week Missal with rubrics of 1962. No pdf. Available in reprint here: <http://www.lulu.com/shop/order-of-preachers/ordo-hebdomad%C3%A6-sanct%C3%A6-iuxta-ritum-ordinis-pr%C3%A6dicatorum/hardcover/product-24021498.html>

Dominican Rite Antiphonal:

Antiphonarium Sacri Ordinis Praedicatorum pro Diurnis Horis. Rome: In Hospitio Magistri Generalis, 1933. The music for Office in this book is generally the same as that of 1962, but should be adjusted and supplemented to conform to the 1962 Breviary. The music of for Matins is lacking. No reprint. PDF download:

<http://media.musicasacra.com/dominican/antiphonarium-1933-gillet.pdf>

Matutinum; vel Antiphonarium S. Ord. Præd. pro Nocturnis Horis Majorum Solemnitatum. Rome: In Hospitio Magistri Generalis, 1936. This contains the music for Matins for major feasts and these conform to 1962 usage. Normally Matins was recto-toned outside of major feasts, so there is no official book with the music for Matins on lesser feasts and ferias. PDF download:

<http://media.musicasacra.com/dominican/matutinum-1936-gillet.pdf>

Reprint available:

If music for Matins of lesser feasts and feria is desired, these resources may be consulted:

Nocturnale: Cantus Novi. Ed. and comp. Hogar Peter Sandhofe. [Electronic file], 2005. This is the Matins Psalter for the year as it was in 1962. It lacks the commons and propers. For those see the next two items. PDF download:

<http://media.musicasacra.com/dominican/n2.pdf>

Nocturnale: Cantus Communium. Ed. and comp. Hogar Peter Sandhofe [Electronic file], 2005). The Commons for Matins as in 1962.

<http://media.musicasacra.com/dominican/nc.pdf>

Antiphonarium iuxta Ritum Sacri Ordinis Praedicatorum. 2 vols. Malines: Dessin, 1862-63. This was the last publication of the entire Antiphonal. It may be used as a resource for that is lacking in 1833 Antiphonal and the work of H. G. Sandhofe. Note also that the Matins psalms use the medieval (pre-Pius-X) order with different antiphons from those of the 1962 Breviary. The chants do not always reflect the medieval manuscripts exactly. USING THE 1933 AND 1965 DOMINICAN RITE MISSALS

According to the documents Summorum Pontificum and Universae Ecclesiae, as well as “State of the Order” address of Master of the Order Carlos Azpiroz Costa, O.P., at the General Chapter of 2010, those celebrating the Dominican Rite Mass should do so “according to the Missal of 1962.” In fact, there is no Dominican “Missal of 1962.” Rather, the Missal in use by the order in 1962 was that of 1933, with the changes made up to that date.

In 1960-1961, the Analecta Ordinis Fratrum Praedicatorum published directives modifying Missal. These volumes are hard to find, and in Latin, so I have compiled a short summary of the changes needed when celebrating using the Missals of 1933/1939 and 1965, since both are commonly used.

Changes to be made when using the 1933/1939 Missal:

1. Use the 1965 Calendar
2. Reduce the number of collects at Mass following this format:

Class I Feast: Usually only 1 Privileged Memory.

Class II Feast: No more than 1 memory, and only when another Class II feast is overridden, this is dropped, if there is a Privileged Memory

Class III Feast: Up to three collects: the principle collect; any second required collect and/or the collect of an overridden feast; additional collects ad libitum up to a total of three.

3. Add the Ecce Agnus Dei and its response before People's Communion.
4. On ferials and penitential days: replace "Benedicamus Domino" with "Ite missa est." The Benedicamus is only used when a liturgical action immediately follows Mass, e.g. on Holy Thursday.
5. Replace the entire Paschal Triduum Rite with that of 1965 Missal or use the Ordo Hebdomadae Sancate . . . Instauratus (1960).

Changes to be made when using the 1965 Missal

1. At Low Mass, prepare chalice and say the Actiones nostras before the Prayers at Foot of the Altar.
2. Add missing head bows in Gloria.
3. Kneel, not bow, at the Incarnatus est in the Credo and head bow at “adoremus.” Sign of Cross at the end of Creed..
4. Recite Secret Prayer quietly, but recite "Per omnia saecula saeculorum." aloud before the Preface Dialogue.
5. Use the 1933 gestures at the "Per ipsum." The “Per ipsum” is said silently except for "Per omnia saecula saeculorum."

6. Add a silent "Amen." after Pater Noster; then recite the Libera nos silently, except for the "Per omnia saecula saeculorum."—which you will say before the "Pax Domini."
7. Restore the Last Gospel. If there is no altar card available, this Gospel may be found as that of the Day Mass of Christmas.

In both Missals:

1. The Communion Confiteor is suppressed, but a response of the Ecclesia Dei Commission on October 2, 2002, says that it may be used if "that is the local custom."
2. Since they are not part of Mass, and have not been required since 1963, the Leonine Prayers are omitted. But nothing prevents them being said, if that is the local custom.
3. It is permitted to add, as Class III feasts, all Dominican saints canonized since 1965 on their original days as blessed, or on their current day, if beatified after 1965. See the calendar I have prepared.

A few final notes:

1. When is the "solemn" tone of the collect used? The opening Collect and Postcommunion at Mass; the collect at Laudes and Vespers, but not at other hours. When is the "simple" tone of the collect used? All other times, including the Asperges.
2. What adoptions has the Ecclesia Dei Commission permitted at Masses with people?

A. The readings may be done in the vernacular (from a currently approved translation) at Low Mass, but they must be sung in Latin at a sung Mass. Order a lectionary for such readings may here: <http://www.lulu.com/shop/dominican-liturgy-publications/epistles-and-gospels-of-the-year-according-to-the-dominican-rite/hardcover/product-23101885.html>

B. The people may recite, along with the servers, all those texts of the Ordinary (but not of the Proper) performed by the choir at a Sung Mass.

C. At a Low Mass, the people may recite the Pater Noster along with the priest. But it is sung by the priest alone at Sung Mass.

D. At a Low Mass, may the people recite with the server those parts which he previously said in a medium voice (e.g. the Prayers at the Foot of the Altar or the Domine non sum dignus)? There has been no statement on this, but as it was done at many "Dialogue Masses" in 1962, it would seem that this is permissible.

My personal opinion is that it is bad liturgically as these "prayers of humility" are historically ministerial, not public. And, of course, they are done only by the servers at Sung Mass, except, perhaps the Domine non sum dignus (but not the Communion Confiteor).

E. In any case, the options chosen should be explained to the congregation before Mass begins, unless they have been regularly followed and people expect them.

NOTES ON THE RUBRICS AROUND THE PRAYERS AT THE FOOT OF THE ALTAR

These notes are meant to correct or supplement the rubrics found in Bonniwell and the Altarboys' Manual.

Vesture of the Priest under the Habit: Bonniwell says that black pants, socks, and black leather shoes are to be worn with the habit, over which is placed the amice and alb. This was a common American Dominican practice, contradicting the rule in the LCO (until 1968), which required that “everything worn under the habit be white” and that black leather shoes always be worn, use of sandals being explicitly reprobated. The old LCO represented practice since the time of Dominic, in particular the reprobation of sandals. Since under-habit clothing is not mentioned in the current LCO, I think people are free to wear black pants and socks, or white pants (more traditionally nickers) and white socks as they prefer. Black leather shoes, however, should always be worn for the 1962 rites: at that time, even Capuchins were required to put on shoes when they celebrated Mass. (A box of black shoes in various sizes was kept in their sacristies.)

Vesture of the Server: At a private Low Mass, the proper attire is the habit with cappa for the server; at a public Low Mass, the server wears a surplice over or under his capuce according to his rank. Albs are used on First and Second Class feasts, but only in the Solemn Mass.

Order for Lighting the Altar Candles: The Eastern Province books represent their local Romanization. The Dominican manner of lighting the candles (no matter how many) is to start on the far left (Gospel Side) and light continuously across to the far right (Epistle Side). That this was the practice in the Western Province is shown in many old photos. The candles are snuffed in the reverse order, right to left.

Lighting the Candles at Private Mass: Traditionally, contra Bonniwell, the candles are lighted by the server while the priest undresses the chalice and lays out the corporal. Light the Gospel candle first, the Epistle second, and then go get the cruets for preparing the chalice. When the Mass is a public Low Mass, the candles are lighted before Mass to avoid admiratio. Traditionally, at Low Mass, the candles were snuffed by the server during the Last Gospel, after the dialogue. At public Low Mass, however, it was usual to snuff them after Mass, again to avoid admiratio.

Kissing the Priest's Hand: this was suppressed in the Eastern Province, and so is not in their books. I don't know what the Western Province practice was. We had a lot of European friars, so I suspect the practice was mixed. Unless the priest has asked you not to do so, kiss the priest's right hand as you pass him cruets, etc.

Turning the Back toward the Tabernacle: Both the priest and server should avoid movements that involve turning their backs to the tabernacle. Bonniwell mentions this for the priest, but not in the Altarboy's Manual, where he sometimes implies that the server turns his back on the tabernacle. That practice is wrong.

Servers Ascending the Altar: Although not mentioned in Bonniwell, it was universal practice for servers at Dominican Rite Mass to ascend to the foot-pace only when absolutely necessary and, in such cases, to do so from the side, not up the front of the steps. Only the ordained ministers ascend from the front, with the sole exception of the Thurifer at a Missae Cantata.

Chapter XVI
On Memories [i.e. extra collects]
 [From the Missale O.P. (1965)]

99 (106). What is stipulated here concerning memories holds for the Mass as well as the Office, both for occurrence and concurrence.

100 (107). Privileged memories are made at Lauds and Vespers, as well as in all Masses; ordinary memories are made only at Lauds, the conventual Mass, and Masses without music [i.e. not at Missae Cantatae that are not a conventual Mass].

102 (109). Privileged memories are:

- a. of the Sunday
- b. of a liturgical day of the first class
- c. of days within the Octave of Christmas
- d. of the September Ember Days, at Mass only
- e. of the ferials of Advent, Lent, and Passiontide
- f. of the Major Litanies, at Mass only.

All other memories are ordinary memories.

103 (111). This is the system for adding memories:

- a. on liturgical days of the first class, and at sung non-conventual Masses, no memory is to be included unless it is privileged, [unless it is provided in the general calendar, e.g. St. Anastasia at the dawn Mass of Christmas.]

- b. on Sundays of the second class, only one memory is permitted, that is of a second class feast that is overridden, but this memory is replaced by a privileged memory, one is to be made.

- c. on all liturgical days of the second class, only one memory is permitted, be it ordinary or privileged.

- d. on liturgical days of the third and fourth class, up to two memories are permitted in addition to the collect of the day.

104 (112). For memories and collects that occur, the following is to be observed:

- a. an Office collect, Mass collect, or memory of a feast or mystery of one of the Divine Persons, excludes a memory or collect of the same feast or mystery of the Divine Person.

- b. an Office collect, Mass Collect, or memory of a Sunday excludes in turn the memory or collect of a feast or mystery of the Lord.

- c. an Office collect, Mass collect, or memory of the season excludes another memory of the season

- d. also, the Office collect, Mass collect, or memory of the Blessed Virgin Mary, or of any saint or blessed, excludes another memory or collect asking the intercession of the Blessed Virgin Mary or of the same saint or blessed; although this does not apply to the collect of a Sunday or ferial in which an invocation is made of a saint or the Virgin.

105 (113). Memories of the season come first. The addition and order of other memories follows the order of feasts on the table of precedence.

106 (114). Any memory that exceeds the number permitted above for the type of liturgical day is omitted.

DOMINICAN RITE LOW MASS
WHAT IS LEVEL OF VOICE?
WHAT MUST BE MEMORIZED?

In the below table, the first column gives texts that are to be recited in “clear” voice, that is so that they can be heard distinctly by those in the back of the church. The center column gives what are said in “moderate” voice, that is, heard only by those around the altar. The right column gives what is said in “quiet” voice, that is what can be heard only by the priest himself.

TEXTS IN BOLD must be memorized as they are said when the priest cannot see the book or the altar cards. TEXTS IN ITALICS would be good to memorize because, even though the book or cards are visible, the priest has things to do while saying them and so will have trouble reading the card.

COMMUNION OF PEOPLE AND PURIFICATION OF VESSALS IN THE DOMINICAN RITE

1. After the preparation prayer, receive the Host.
2. Make a “thanksgiving” for “the time of an Our Father”—I find that it takes about that long to consume the Host.
3. Genuflect.
4. Remove the pall from chalice and take the first sip.
5. Take the paten and scrape the corporal; put particles in chalice—you do this because you are going to put the ciborium where the Host was and you don’t want to set it on particles.
6. Recover the chalice and set it out of the way on the corporal to left of tabernacle.
7. Take the ciborium and place it on the front of the corporal and remove the cover.
8. Genuflect and take out one of the hosts.
9. Turn to the people and say “Ecce Agnus Dei, ecce qui tollet peccata mundi.” And the server will make the reply.
10. Give communion to server and any laity receiving.
11. Take the communion plate in left hand from server and return to the altar.
12. Consume any extra hosts and brush particles off communion plate into chalice.
13. Take the ciborium to get wine ablution, return to center and pour it into the chalice.
14. Consume the wine ablution from the chalice.
15. Take the ciborium to side to get wine and water ablution.
16. Say the ablution prayer and go to center, pour the second ablution into the chalice.
17. Consume the second ablution from the chalice.
18. Dry the ciborium, put the cover back on, and place it off the corporal to right of tabernacle.
19. Dry the chalice and remake it.
20. Wait until the server has moved book and snuffed the Sanctus candle, then go to book and read the Communion Verse.

Things to note:

Bonniwell, p. 44, f.n. 9, says that communion of the server is done before step 5 above. This is because he assumes that the server is the only communicant, and that his Host is on the corporal along with the priest’s Host. Since at public Masses his Host is in the ciborium, ignore f.n. 9. See also, Bonniwell, p. 70, f.n. 1.

Also, in step 9, when it is a sung Mass, the WDP custom is to do the Communion Confiteor at before the Ecce.

How to get things in and out of the tabernacle is explained on the next page.

COMMUNION OF PEOPLE AND PURIFICATION OF VESSALS IN THE DOMINICAN RITE

When tabernacle Hosts are to be changed.

1. After the preparation prayer, receive the Host.
2. Make a “thanksgiving” for “the time of an Our Father”—I find that it takes about that long to consume the Host.
3. Genuflect.
4. Remove the pall from chalice and take the first sip.
5. Take the paten and scrape the corporal and put particles in chalice—you do this because you are going to put the ciborium where the Host was and you don’t want to set it on particles.
6. Recover the chalice and set it out of the way on the corporal to left of tabernacle.
7. Take the ciborium out of the way near the chalice.
8. Remove center altar card and put it on Epistle side.
9. Open tabernacle door (tricky since your thumbs and index fingers are together—I can explain if needed).
10. Genuflect and take out the ciborium.
11. Close tabernacle door if there are any hosts (e.g. for the monastrance) remaining in the tabernacle. If tabernacle is empty, leave the door open.
12. Take the cover with little veil off the ciborium and put to the right of the corporal.
13. Genuflect and take out one of the hosts.
14. Turn to the people and say “Ecce Agnus Dei, ecce qui tollet peccata mundi.” And the server will make the reply.
15. Give communion to server and any laity receiving. If you run out of Hosts, go to altar and get newly consecrated to continue communion—leaving empty tabernacle ciborium on corporal uncovered.
16. Take the communion plate from server and return to the altar.
12. Consume any extra old Hosts.
13. Clean any fragments in tabernacle ciborium into chalice with your finger. You will not do an ablution of his ciborium as the dampness will make the Hosts stick to the inside.
14. Transfer the newly consecrated Hosts to the tabernacle ciborium and put it in the tabernacle.
15. Genuflect and close tabernacle door; replace altar card.
16. Brush particles off communion plate into chalice
17. Take the Mass ciborium to get wine ablution, return to center and pour it into the chalice.
18. Consume the wine ablution from the chalice.
19. Take the ciborium to side to get wine and water ablution.
20. Say the ablution prayer and go to center, pour the second ablution into the chalice.
21. Consume the second ablution from the chalice.
22. Dry the ciborium, put the cover back on, and place it off the corporal to right of tabernacle.
23. Dry the chalice and remake it.
24. Wait until the server has moved book and snuffed the Sanctus candle, then go to book and read the Communion Verse.
